CHANGED TIMES

There is a season and a time
for all things bright and dark,
light and happy, warm and cold:
a time for holding fast and letting go,
a time for gathering up and casting,
a time for bringing in and giving out,
a time for greetings and a time for partings.

Oh, let me be attune with seasons
and with the changing time of things:
I want to hold you close when your time calls for that,
to see you from afar when solitude is what you need,
to comfort you in troubled moments,
to shield you from a cloud of storm
and shelter you when the earth trembles
and see you safely home through lonely water.

There is a season and a time
for lovers like ourselves,
as days of gentle summer rain
must follow warmth and sunshine,
as autumn leaves must fall as well,
our meeting and our parting
must have its time and season.

— Walter Henry Nelson

Dedication

Some men spend a lifetime searching for their destinies but you have achieved all that a person could dream possible.

We admire you, a man with love in your heart and dedication in your soul. You are a person of conviction and honesty, and you are a man who has accepted a challenge which few men can meet and conquer!

To you, Bishop Ottenweller, we wish to dedicate the 1974 CREST as a token of our admiration and as a small thank you for all you've done for us and for our community.

Today's Leaders Influence

The school board of St. John School is confronted every day with the many problems that arise when it comes to keeping a school in commission. These people put in many long, hard hours of work, hours that are appreciated by the people of our parish. The students of St. John's would like to thank these people for their dedication.

The 1973-74 Delphos St. John School Board consisted of: (standing) Thomas Gordon, Richard Moorman, Ralph Hemker and Cletus Vonderwell; (seated) James Bertling, George E. Adams, Mrs. Caroline Gallemier, Sr. M. Annunciata and The Most Reverend Albert H. Ottenweller.

Being the principal of a school is a difficult job for any man, but Mr. Adams seems to enjoy being the leader of St. John's High School. But there are many aspects of Mr. Adams' job we don't realize: the responsibilities, the pressures, the sorrows, the disappointments. His job is so complex that Mr. Adams is sometimes a bit mysterious — doing things, acting in certain ways, and changing in mood for reasons which aren't apparent to us.

STUDENT LIFE

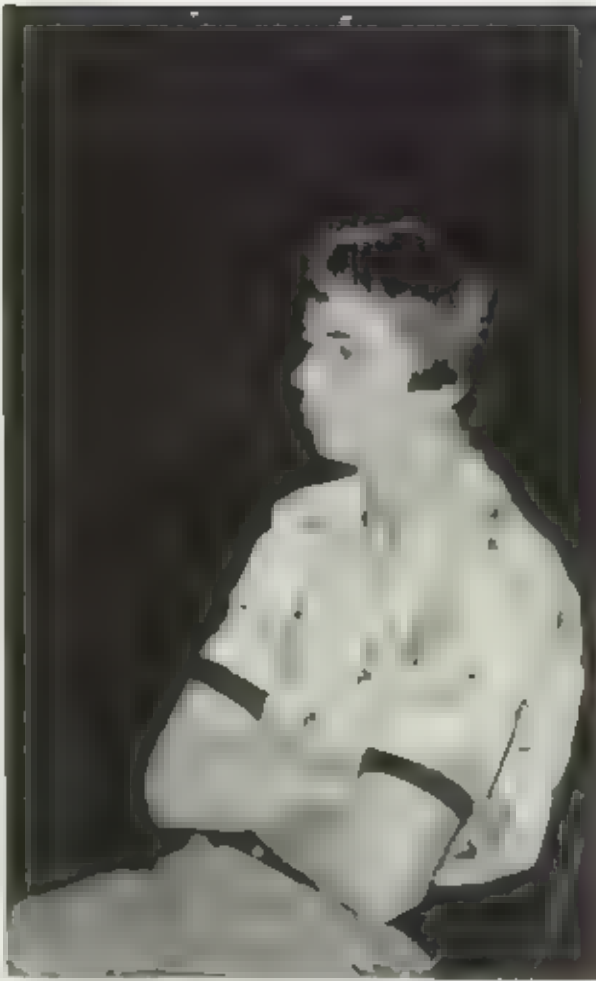

Going. Going. Gone . . .

The pictures below illustrate one of the tricks played on the students by the football cheerleaders during a pep assembly. Many other such activities were often found in the classrooms and halls, and were sometimes forgotten.

Before we know it the school year has ended and become part of the past. All we have left are the memories. Pranks like the one shown along with others all make up our school years at St. John's.

What do you remember from a school year?

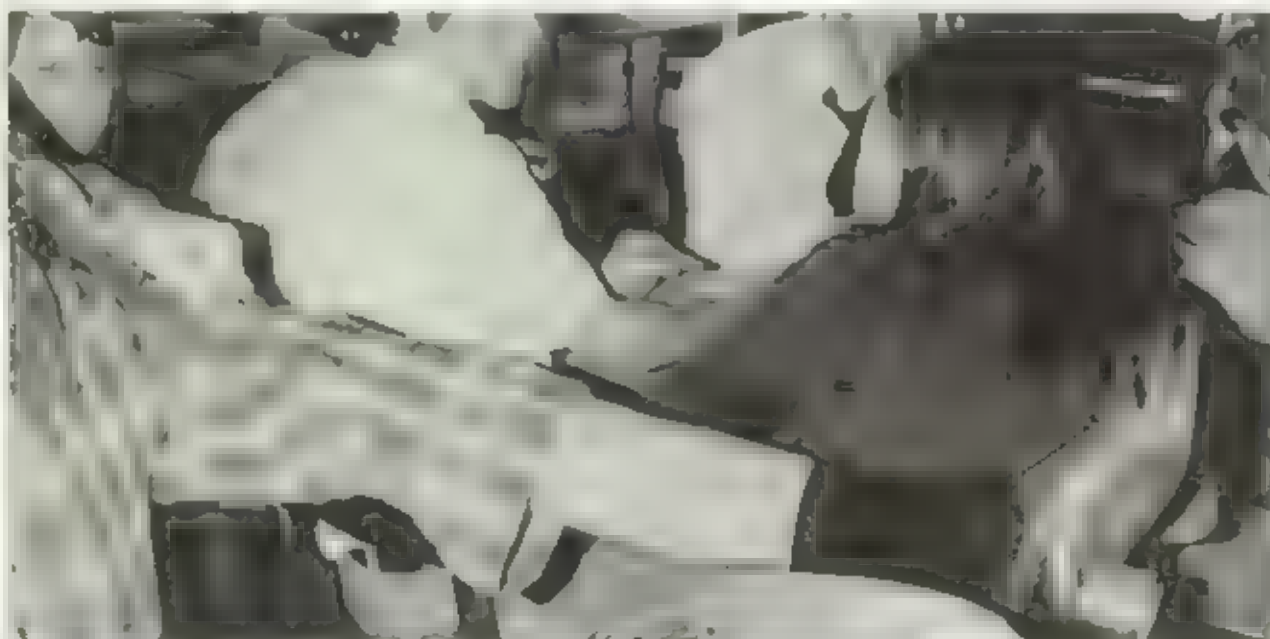

Wake up, Mike Benson!

'Teen Angel' Is Here To Stay

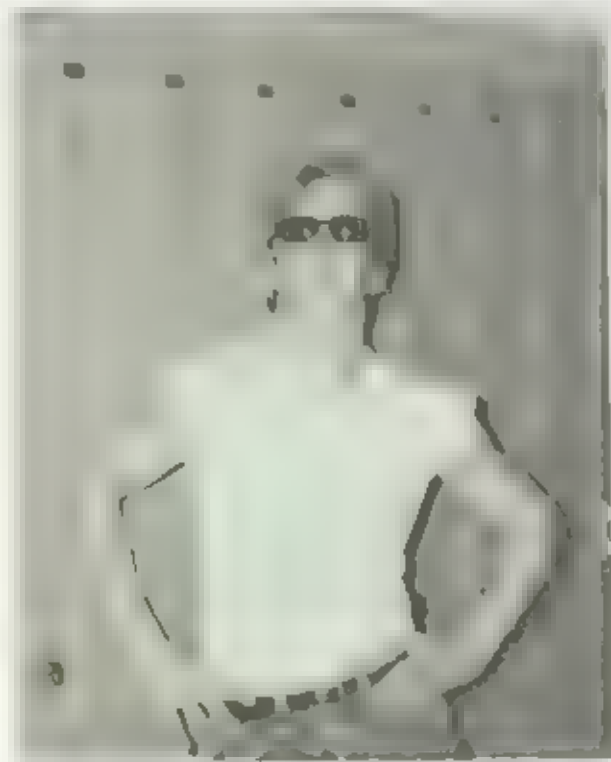

Old doesn't necessarily mean out of style according to St. John's students as many of them participated in the Fifties Day. This project sponsored by the Student Council was designed to promote school spirit and general all around fun. Enthusiastic students sported pony tails, long skirts, leather jackets, and slicked-down hair.

Citizens Involved in Civic Work

Last fall, the Veterans of Foreign Wars presented St. John's Annex with an American flag that had flown over the Capitol building.

Each year students from the Junior class are chosen to attend Girls' State and Boys' State. While there, the students conduct a government of their own. Each student is elected to a position and attends to their respective duties.

Shown after donating a flag to the Annex are VFW members: Dan Walters, Frank Munday, and Mr. Boberg.

Bo Scherger and J. attended Boys' State this summer with Joe Hertz serving as alternate.

Alternates Amy Hemker and Julie Krendl were chosen with Aimee Hedrick and Mary Clark who represented St. John's as delegates to Girls' State.

Everyone Doing

In the days before the festival the school operated in a state of turmoil, but none seemed to mind. Everyone was swept up in the excitement of preparation. The air of friendly cooperation among the workers helped tremendously toward the success of the festival. 1973 Fall Festival

What a great year for the St. John Festival! It was terrific success! Everyone there seemed to enjoy themselves during the two day event and in the process $68,000 was accumulated. This money is used toward the financing of the grade and high schools. Without the wonderful support illustrated by our parishoners, the schools would not be able to function.

West Side Story

Bob Hammons and Diana Imber rehearse a scene in the Bridal Shop

The people involved in the play this year took on a great challenge by performing "West Side Story." After the decision was made on the play, the pit band began practicing almost immediately. Dancing steps had to be mastered, for they played an important part in the play. There were other changes from tradition also as the play was enacted without a formal stage. As a result, our technicians had to experiment with the lighting and sound systems.

Rehearsing the play was sometimes very difficult because acting, singing, and dancing had to be coordinated together to bring out the special meaning of the play. All the emotions were encountered in performing "West Side Story" as the actors portrayed their characters through the action of the story. The entire experience was valuable to the Seniors for introducing them to the art of theater.

Study Days Promote Religious Education

Masses, speakers, entertainment, and many other activities play important parts in the Study Days that are planned by Father Blaser. This year the Mission Society conducted a Service Day in which the entire student body became involved in performing diverse services for the community and surrounding regions.

For some of the student body, the Mission Study Day was a challenge physically.

Bob Ulm takes part in the St. John's Study Day by using his musical ability.

Lisa Hanshaker, Karen Jennings, Chad Weber, and Glenn Bertling helped with the Red Cross Disaster Aid Kits, which was another part of the Mission Study Day.

Seniors Visit Cedar Point and Ft. Loramie

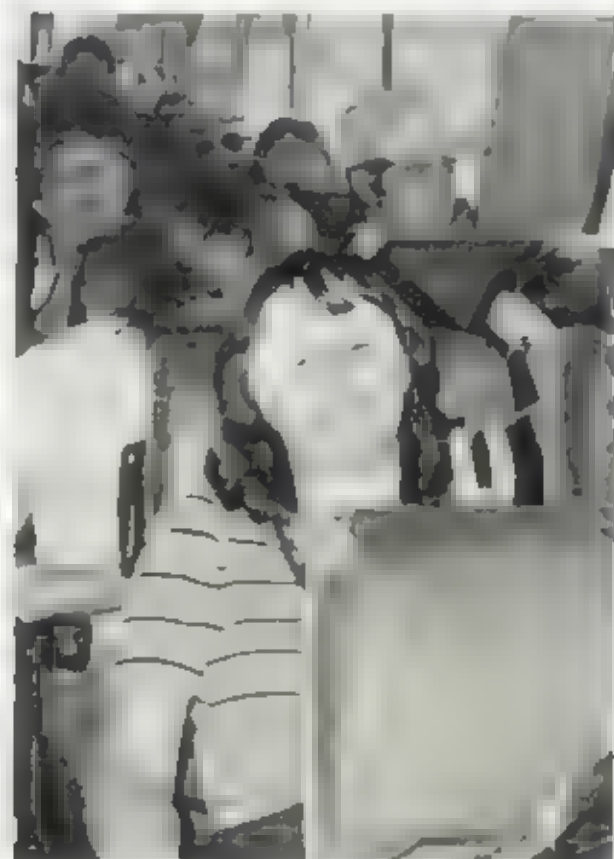

Cedar Point in Sandusky, Ohio and Ft. Loramie once again were the popular choices for the Senior class trip and picnic. Greyhound buses, chartered for the class trip, provided comfortable transportation to Cedar Point. Many Seniors attended the event and were rewarded with good weather and fun for the day. The prayers of many people were answered (Sr. Marciana?) when a beautiful day dawned for the Senior class picnic. As a result, many students went swimming and soaked up the sun on the beach with some people getting too much sun!

Juniors are transformed into Seniors. Sophomores into Juniors and Freshmen become Sophomores. It's the last day of school. Everything is put away and forgotten until the next year when it starts all over again. This page concludes the Student Life section. Hopefully in the future, these pages will remind you of special incidents and help you remember what was once life at St. John's during 1973-1974.

Graduation — Those Funny Looking Caps

Lisa Hanshumaker receives the Director's Award for her work on the yearbook.

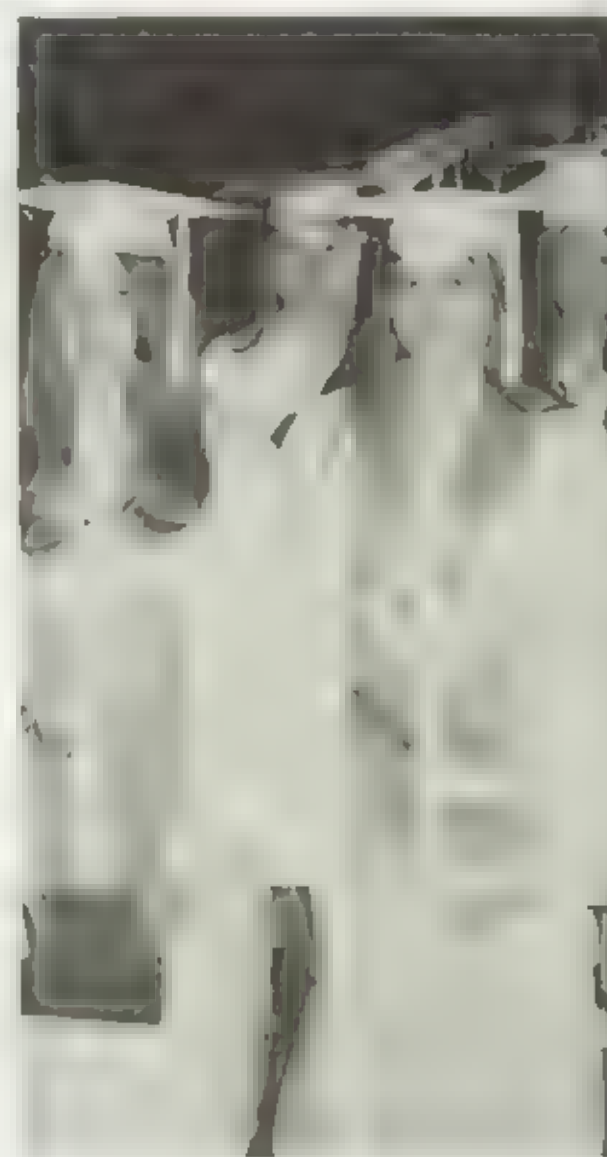

A number of seniors were awarded Hauss Hearts Scholarships. They are: front row: Alice Newman, Steph Kasko, Sue Schaeffer, Karen Johnson, Pam Weber; back row: Dave Houser, Grace Rupert, Sue Miller, Bob Carr, Pam Schwietzer, Dianne Mesker, Mike Stutzmaker.

Dodie Dukes happily receives one of the two Senior Art Awards from Mrs. Mary Manning.

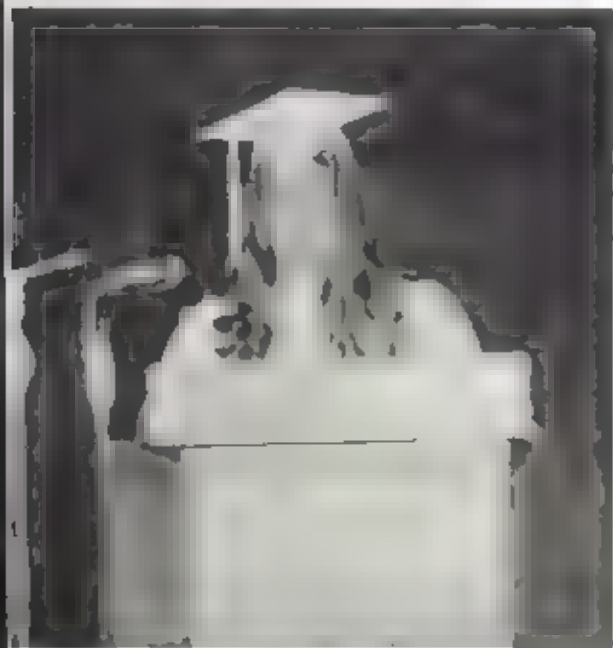

Polly Weber was the 1973 recipient of the Hittman Award.

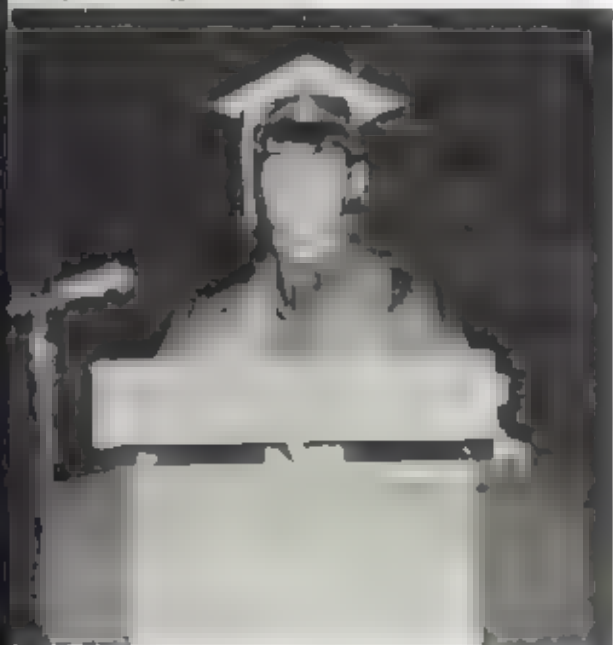

Graduation day finds departing seniors with mixed emotions.

and Gowns Are Finally Earned!

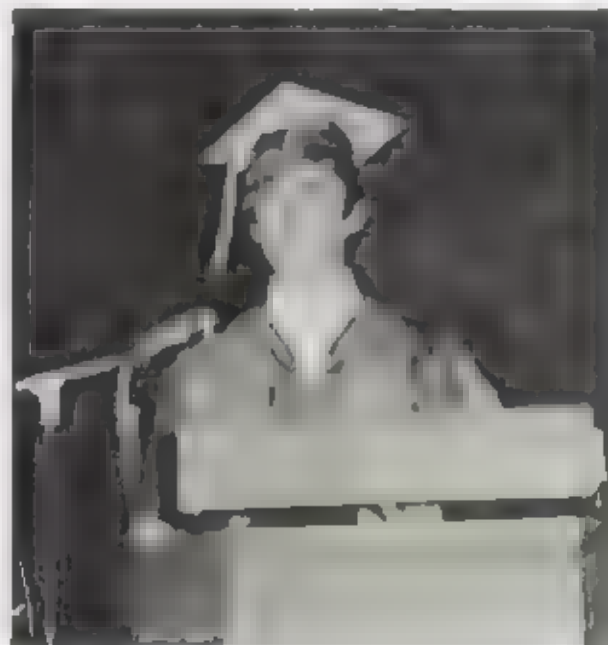

Alice Noonan was the top student in the class and gave the speakers at graduation.

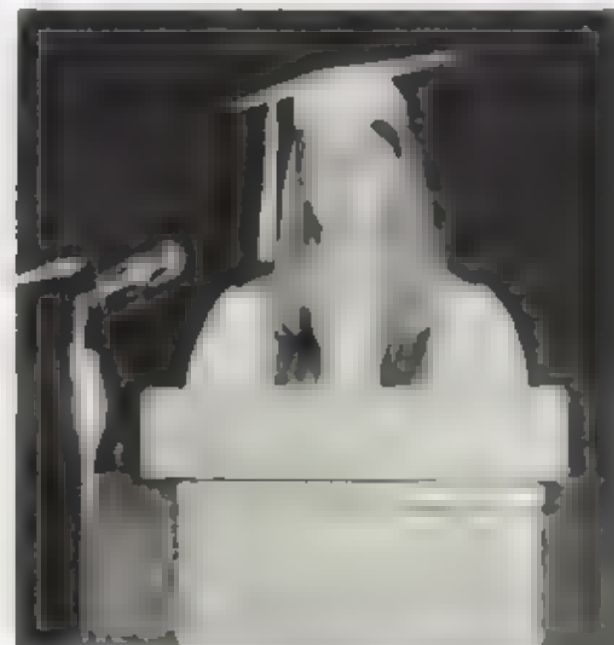

Graduation is an important day in everyone's lives. Seniors begin to count the days until the final one way back in the middle of winter. "May 26" became a magical incantation, sometimes throwing a few excitable Seniors into fits of frenzy. Many people looked forward to that day, but there were a few feelings of sorrow also. St. John's became almost a second home to some Seniors. We would miss some of the crazy things that went on in those halls and classrooms. However, no one can remain a school age "teenybopper" forever and so graduation finally became a reality. In the meantime, we shared numerable experiences together such as the class play, Senior trip, and Senior voting. In the awards assembly, quite a few people received honors and scholarships, giving them recognition for their work at St. John's. As the day grew near, we also began to understand what previous Senior classes had experienced as graduation approached and a new life began.

The other commencement speakers were Steve Bergfeld

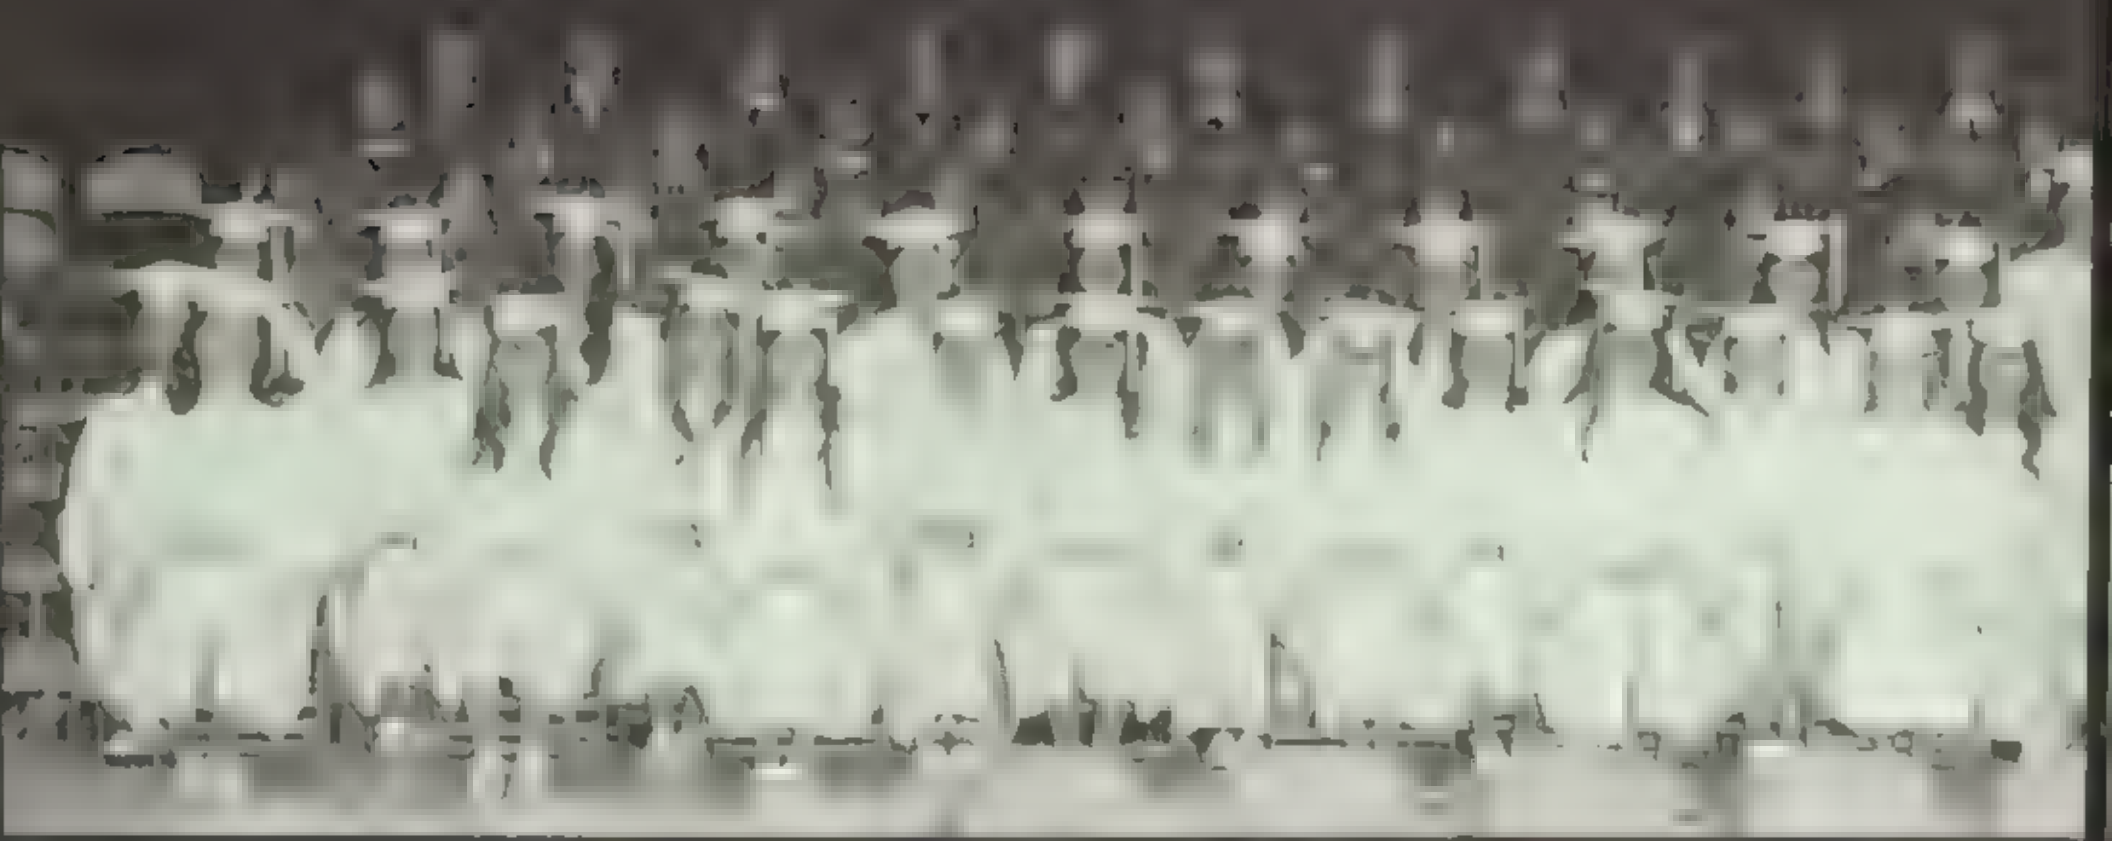

Tom Hoersten,

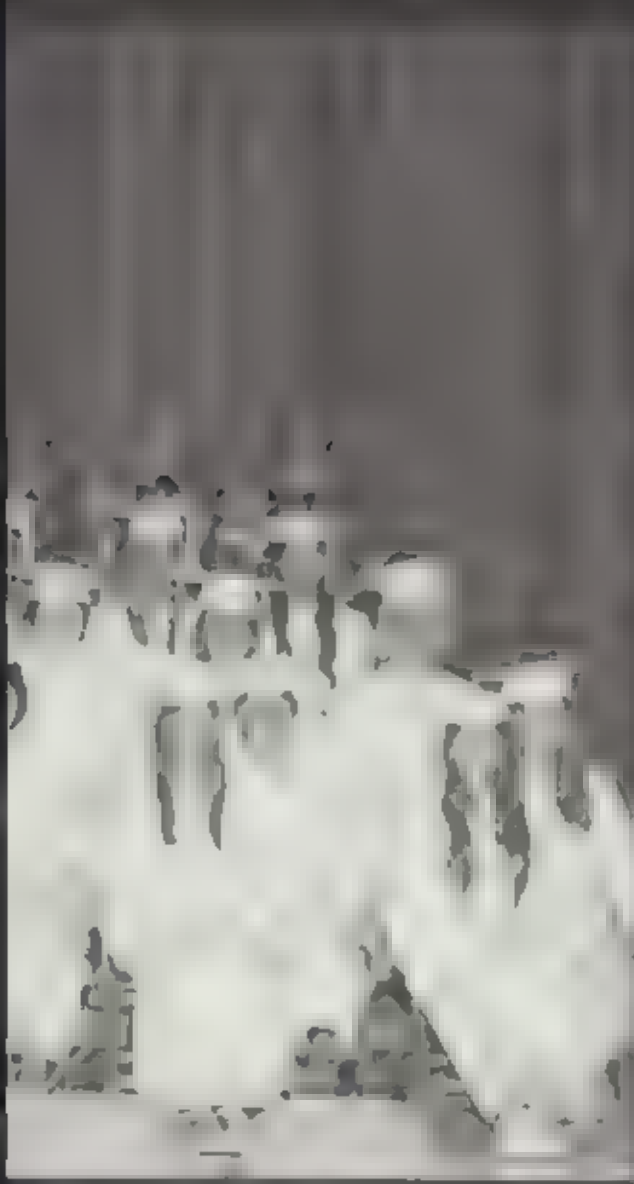

and Karen Jettinhuft

DO YOUR BEST

*Not all folks can be towering oaks —
Some make much better pines
While being just a little bush
Is where another shines
For success is never measured
By the height that you achieve
But rather by how you live up
To all that you believe
So know just where you're going
And what you are working for
Then do the very best you can —
No one could ask for more!*

Isn't anything local anymore?

Jet travel has put us within a few hours of any point on the globe, and television gives us an instantaneous look at what's happening anywhere.

With distances shrinking the way they are, it's easy to get the idea that our own local community isn't too important in the scheme of things—that everything that's happening is happening somewhere else.

Don't forget. The jets and television sets were designed and built by people in towns just like ours. The newsmen, the pilots, the politicians and the passengers all have a hometown, too.

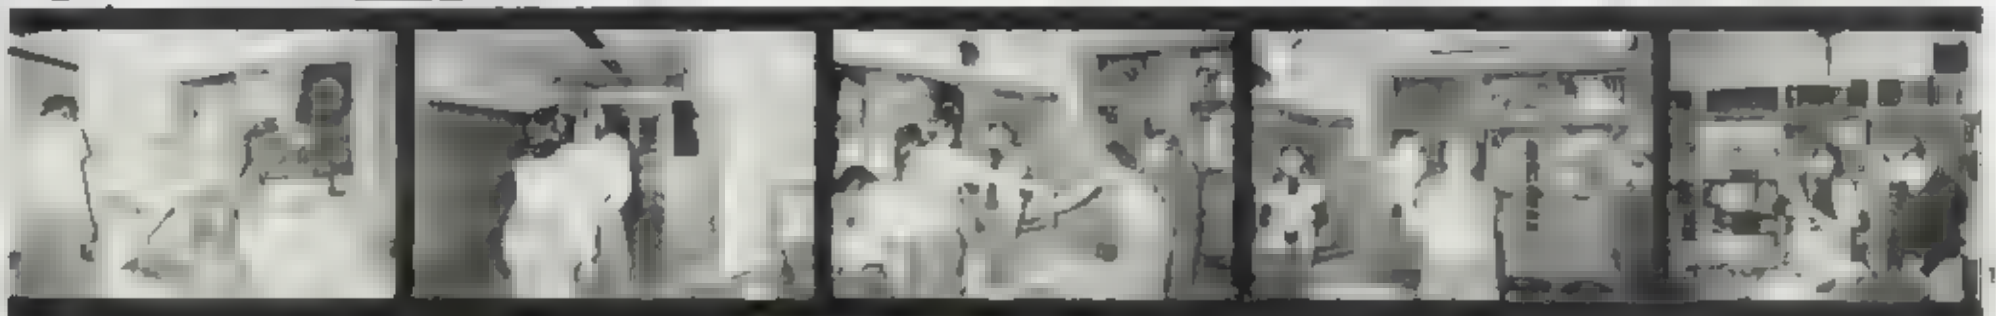

Central Soya's most happy to be a part of this community. We're proud of our people and the part we play in making our hometown a better place to live and work—so it's anything local anymore?

Sure. We are.

It's your future.

Congratulations from a Former Grad

To produce an outstanding yearbook you need hard workers, a dedicated advisor, time and cooperation. Everyone connected with this project, and the CREST, combined these qualities which made the 1974 CREST a great success.

To Mr. Steve White, our Taylor representative, thank you for all the times you helped us with our book.

To the student photographers, Ed and Ken, Mr. Charles Nalty, and especially Mr. David Hargrove of Kaufman Studio, a big thank you for all the beautiful pictures that were taken and for all your hard work.

To Nancy and Jerry, taking care of the money, always a big responsibility. As this year's business managers, you really did an excellent job.

Thanks goes out to the staff members for all the work they did to help produce this volume of the CREST. It was hard work right to the end, but it was fun.

The biggest thank you goes to our advisor, Mr. Randy Beliveau. We never know how he puts up with it, but he never gives up. He was always there to give us a hand whenever we needed it. It was a lot of fun and we'll never forget all the good times that we had.

As we look back on this year, we'll see that it is "A Time to Remember What Once Was Ours."

— Tina Brandhoff, Editor
